

Cyprus

Displacement associated with Conflict and Violence

Figures Analysis – 2020

	Figure	Highlight	Methodology and Sources	Caveats and Challenges
New Displacement	-	No data available.
Total number of IDPs as of 31 December 2020 Pending further information and evidence, those who are in a situation of displacement, but progressing towards a durable solution have not been included.	228,000	This figure refers to people internally displaced since 1974 by the armed conflict between Cyprus and Turkey.	This figure is based on the latest official and openly available document with a figure of IDPs provided by the Cypriot delegation to the Parliamentary Assembly of the Council of Europe in 2018. Neither the date of the figure nor the methodology used to assess the number of people displaced is known.	We have medium confidence in this figure because of lack of clarity on how it was calculated. Furthermore, even though the figure is cited in a document from two years ago, it is based on data that is likely to be older and therefore much harder to verify.